KS Extends Lead Over DR and DP

LF Goes 13-3 and is Mov'in on Up in the Standings

Effective date: 2012-12-11

KS picks up a game on DR and DP increasing his lead to three games. MS is wilting under the pressure dropping to fifth place from third. Moving in the other direction is LF. With 13 wins he moves up five spots from 10th place to 5th place trailing KS by only four games. Over the last four weeks no one has more wins than LF. Could this be one of the great comebacks?

KB has been moving up the standings. Since week 8 KB has 64 wins picking up eight games in the standings. He is sitting 4 games off of KS's pace. Other notable performances include SR with 11 wins including an impressive loner pick with CAR over ATL. Nicely played SR! MM strung together his fourth consecutive 10+win week and has the second most wins over the last three weeks.

Only three weeks left in this season. For those of you in the race don't forget Thursday's game. Also remember, the last week of the season(week 17)player differences are not disclosed until the final game is played and the Champ is decided. Good luck.
