BS Separates from the Pack

Effective date: 2013-09-23

In a crazy week, BS picks 11 winners to get a single occupancy at the PFVCC exclusive penthouse. BS is off to another strong start as in 2012 where he was in second place at the end of Week 3. KS, also picks 11 winners to tie BS for weekly honors. KS has three consecutive 11 win weeks in 2013 and five consecutive double-digit win weeks dating back to last season.

SR has another impressive week but drops a game to BS and finds himself in second place one game out. SR picks CLE over MIN for the only Loner pick this week. Married life seems to agree with SR as he is +10 in the win column compared to the same time last year. Unlike SR, JP doesn't seem to be thriving in the world of picks since his nuptials as he finds himself out by seven games. JP has only one week above .500 this year. MM continues to hang in there out by 2 games. MM is +8 compared to last year.

A report from the Treasury: Thanks to everyone that has paid to date. This is the best early results in the modern era of the PFVCC for dues paying. MM, KB and TB call or write if you need my address.

Thursday Night Game. As we approach Week 4 start to prepare yourself for the MIP (weeks 5-12). Go to the message board and read KS's explanation of the MIP.
