SS Makes Himself Heard in Week 4

DP Joins KS Atop The Leaderboard as The Gentleman's Club Undergoes Renovations

Effective date: 2026-10-07

As the PFVCC Gentleman's Club became the talk of week 3 many members went home and felt inspired by the conversations that were had. Perhaps it was the camaraderie felt between membership as most shared in the same struggles in week 3…or maybe it was from motivation to gain access into a rumored private room of the Gentleman's Club that is set to open in the coming weeks. What wasn't mentioned in last week recap that has recently come to light is that as all the members filed for the exit, KS stayed behind and asked leadership about an exclusive space for PFVCC Champions. His request, although tongue in cheek after a long night in the lounge, was apparently enough to lead to a temporary closure of the club while improvements are made. No details have been made available, however expect some updates in the coming weeks.

Regardless of the motivation that resonated with membership, no voice was louder than SS who took top honors with 11 wins and cut his deficit in half. After this performance, SS begins feeling the confidence and we all know what that means… story time may be coming… That said, KS and and DP still remain in the top spot, so they hold the Ace and all else must check or bluff until they have the upper hand. DP gained that top spot by logging 10 wins along with CM, LF and MS who also shaved 1 game off their deficit. Strong performances by those mentioned as they look to build on it in week 5 and beyond.

Along with DP joining the top spot on the leaderboard, he also has made loner headlines for the 3rd time in 4 weeks. He put his reputation on the line with his picks of TB and ATL, and one team let him down while one exceeded his expectations. Overall, no harm no foul as his 50% loner winning percentage remains intact as he has been the biggest risk taker through the first month of the season. We salute you, DP!

Through 4 weeks, the only thing that is certain is that KS and DP lead the pack… What will come of the Gentleman's Club and who will be the next member to make a run remains to be seen... SS owned week 4, who will take week 5? More answers to come.

Your President,

LF
